AUGUST 2021

20 August 2021

A new record was set this month as the home of teqball, Budapest, hosted Hungary's longest ever teqball match, which lasted for 12 hours ahead of the EURO 2020 final. Meanwhile young teqers participated in a summer training camp in Shanghai, and athletes all around the world enjoyed the new content on FITEQ's education platform, headlined by a new training series led by Teqball Ambassador Ronaldinho. Competitions continued in Africa, Pan America, Asia and Europe, whilst the Papua New Guinea NOC's recognition of teqball highlighted the continued growth of the sport in Oceania.
