

Make Gmail more powerful

Bring Contactually contact intelligence to Gmail with our new Chrome extension

Contactually's Chrome extension works within your Contactually-connected Gmail account. Access familiar contact management and messaging features right in Gmail. Schedule and track emails, keep your contacts up-to-date as your relationship changes, or refresh yourself on the current state of affairs.

The right access where and when you need it

- 1 View/edit contact details when reading or writing a message
- 2 Create Tasks, log Interactions/Notes, or edit contact info
- 3 Schedule email, use templates, or track email opens, clicks, and replies
- 4 Open the contact sidebar when you need it, minimize when you don't Get started by installing the extension and logging in. Usually use your Google account to log in? You can still use the extension with your email address and password; just reset your Contactually password if you don't remember it (we'll walk you through it). If you need assistance, you can reach out to support@contactually.com or check out our support article.
