Global Fortune 50 organisation partners with Learning Tree to improve DE&I challenges

Women In Leadership workshops deliver measurable impact with a 25 % increase in promotion rates.

THEIR CHALLENGE:

A Fortune 50 global organisation struggled with its diversity, equity, and inclusion efforts to improve the ratio of women in leadership positions, and partnered with Learning Tree to develop a programme that aims to:

- Break the glass ceiling for women in senior management roles, particularly in their key technology division, with the lowest per cent of women across all groups in their division.
- Formalise a mentoring programme for existing female employees to be role models and inspire other women to join the organisation.
- Build a pipeline of women in leadership positions.

OUR SOLUTION:

Learning Tree developed the Transformational Leadership for Women Workshop – a blended learning programme developed to increase gender diversity in leadership roles.

Programme success indicators needed to show impact on business beyond the classroom:

1. Executive sponsorship between senior level management (C-level) and mid-level managers to identify and develop high potential performers.
2. Extend learner support and continue development through a post event alumni network.

This programme provides tools to identify and overcome self-limiting beliefs, addresses a hot topic amongst most Board of Directors and has been deployed at other Fortune 50 organisations facing the same DE&I challenges.
