

PuppySpot.com Expands Breeder Health Clinic Program

Puppy Placement Service to Assist Older Purebred and Designer Dogs to Find Forever Homes

LOS ANGELES, CA (October 19, 2017) – PuppySpot, the nation’s most trusted service for connecting dog lovers with responsible breeders, continues to invest in the health and well-being of puppies and adult dogs with the expansion of its health clinic program for its exclusive network of breeder partners.

Following the success of PuppySpot’s first mobile health clinic in Missouri, an additional health clinic, with the support of the American Kennel Club (AKC)®, will be held this Fall in Texas. A later clinic is planned for the Spring in Indiana. PuppySpot breeder partners located near the clinics will be invited to attend at a heavily discounted rate and bring as many of their dogs as they’d like. The clinics consist of thorough health examinations by a licensed veterinarian including hip, elbow, cardiac, dental and patellar checks, as well as soft tissue exams and hip and elbow x-rays. Breeders will also have the option to obtain Orthopedic Foundation for Animals (OFA) certification and meet with an AKC representative on-site to discuss AKC registration-related questions.

“After piloting the program in Missouri earlier this year, we are thrilled to expand our mobile health clinics to our best-in-class breeder partners in other parts of the country,” said Greg Liberman, Chief Executive Officer of PuppySpot. “Our top priority is dog health and welfare, and mobile health clinics, like these, are one of the ways we directly support our breeders by offering them convenient additional and affordable health services.”
